EAL Procedure

This procedure is reviewed every three years. It can be reviewed sooner if amendments to legislation or educational practice necessitate a change.

The EAL Co-ordinator is: Mrs Katherine Britten

The term English as an additional language (EAL) is used when referring to students whose main language at home is not English. Students who attend school with little knowledge of English need every encouragement to learn quickly to avoid missing out on classroom learning and to be able to integrate as well as possible. They may also need additional support and an environment that encourages the appreciation of international and cultural diversity. This policy sets out the academy's aims, objectives and responsibilities with regard to the needs of EAL students. When making arrangements for the educational provision of students with EAL, the School follows the SEND Code of Practice (2015).

In particular, the academy recognises the importance of ensuring language delay is not seen as a learning difficulty. Additionally, it recognises that parents and relatives for whom English is not their first language, may need the support of an interpreter in order to voice any concerns regarding their Child's education. The academy makes every effort to ensure all young people who have Special Educational Needs are supported appropriately and make progress in their learning.

The Aims of this procedure are:

- To welcome and value the cultural, linguistic and educational experiences that students with EAL bring to the academy
- To implement academy-wide strategies to ensure that EAL students are supported in accessing the curriculum
- To help EAL students become confident and fluent in English in order that they may fulfil their academic potential

The Objectives of the EAL Procedure are:

- To be able to assess the skills and needs of students with EAL and to give appropriate provision throughout the academy;
- To equip teachers with the knowledge, skills and resources to support and monitor students with EAL;
  - To monitor students' progress systematically and use the data in classroom management and curriculum planning;
- To maintain students' self-esteem and confidence by acknowledging and giving status to their skills in their own languages.

At this academy all staff:

- Have high expectations – students should contribute and give more than one-word answers; recognise that bilingual students are capable of achieving an education, even when they are beginners in the English language;
- Recognise that the literacy goals in English are the same for all students - many bilingual students will become literate in one or more languages
- Recognise the process of becoming literate in a first or an additional language which have both similarities and differences - knowledge of the particular features of the young person's mother tongue can help;
- Recognise that EAL students need more time to process answers;
- Understand that talking about language and literacy with peers and adults is essential - it helps
  - students to use their home language when talking about literacy, even when their goal is
  - literacy in English;

- Address any racist comments - these should be reported and dealt with using the academy's Behaviour Policy
- Allow students to use their mother tongue to explore concepts;
- Allow newly arrived young students time to absorb English (there is a recognised 'silent period' when a young person understands much more English than they use - this will pass if their self- confidence is maintained).
